"GAVEL GAB"

Greg Ruby...

I would like to thank you for your confidence in electing me as the 6th president of MD TAMS, along with our other new officers: Bill Sacks, Jim Boswell, Ed Craig, Frank Pugliese and Bill Miller. With YOUR help, we can keep MD TAMS moving forward.

Remember MD TAMS is YOUR club! Why not participate by bringing an item for show and tell, write an article for our editor or just take out a FREE classified ad in the "Maryland TAMS Journal."

While we are the MARYLAND Token and Medal Society, and that should be our main focus, let's not forget that there is a lot of other exnumia items out there to be collected. I feel that we can reach out to collectors of Hard Times tokens or Civil War tokens if we are willing to expand our horizons. I know some of you collect items that are not Maryland related. How about writing an article or giving a program on these items?

We will be holding our annual meeting during the big American Numismatic Association Convention in Baltimore during July. Our meeting will be held on Saturday, July 31 at 11 a.m. in Room 306 of the Baltimore Convention Center. I hope to see you there!

Speaking of the "really big show", have you mapped out your action plan to get all those goodies that are going to be issued? If not, you might want to check out the show schedule and plan ahead. Several clubs are planning to issue souvenirs, as well as some of the dealers, ANA, and the mints. TAMS, TEC and CWTS will also be having meetings during ANA, among other clubs. Why not drop by a few of these meetings?

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Bryce Doxzon for the job he did as President the last two years. Pete Burris was elected as Treasurer Emeritus at the last meeting in recognition of his many years of service. Thanks also to Janice Pugliese for the job she did as Secretary the past several years.

So, fasten your seat belts! We are going to have some SERIOUS fun!

JOHN HENRY -a man for all ages

1907-1993

We have lost another numismatic giant. For Marylanders, John Henry left a legacy which is unequalled in modern times. He founded the Maryland State Numismatic Association (MSNA) and was a charter member of our own Maryland TAMS. He donated much of his extensive collection to the MSNA and was always ready with one of his numismatic tales from the old days.

After he moved to Florida with his wife Trudy, who passed away shortly thereafter, he often returned to Maryland for special occasions. He had a list of coin collector friends that he would call and make an appointment for a rendezvous to either talk over old times or explore coin shops or just go to special places. I was fortunate to have been on his list and we usually enjoyed lunch at a local restaurant and talked about the good old days...John did most of the talking. We would always match coins to see who would pay and his magic with coins usually allowed me to pick up the tab.

After lunch we would go for a ride...we visited a farmhouse where John insisted, "the lady has picker checks." But she would not share the information with us...had checks...but wouldn't even let us see them! We drove along the old Annapolis-Elkridge Railroad bed...

"This is where the Confederates tore up a bridge," John would say as if he had been a member of the raiding party. We drove to All Hallow's Parish, south of Edgewater to see the grave of his ancestor, William Burgess who was one of the original founders of Londontown who died in 1686. John's middle name was Burgess.

John was always a collector and even though he gave many of his treasures away, he never stopped collecting. I guess it's an instinctive trait that many of us share.

John once told me...no, several times told me how he got started collecting coins. He grew up in Indian Springs, Md. a small town about half way between Hagerstown and Hancock, where Maryland is just a few miles thick in Washington County. Old Lewis Eichelburger lived in an old log cabin and used to sit on his front porch and play a mouth organ. This was in the depression days in the early 30's and John was looking for junk to sell as their family was confronted with hard times. John asked old Lewis if he had any junk?

"Ya - I got some old furniture you can have and if you want these old coins I'll sell them to you."

John looked over the "junk"...some good old pieces of furniture, but the coins fascinated him.

"My father gave me the old coins and the bank wouldn't take them...said they were no good no more. You can have the rolls for 25 cents each."

There were two rolls of Flying Eagle cents, all extra fine or better. John offered him face value and bought the rolls for 50 cents each. He felt he was taking a risk as he didn't know himself if they were any good. This was his first purchase of coins.

He later saw some large cents in the window of a barber shop on the square in Hagerstown. He bought two of the early date, 1810 or earlier, both for a quarter.

Wheeling and dealing in junk, John put himself through the University of Maryland - it cost him $435 a year..."a lot of money in those days."

"When I graduated I couldn't find a job"...sounds like today!

He picked apples for 10 cents an hour- worked 10 hours and they charged the pickers 10 a day for transportation.

John then went to work on the railroad, which paid more, but was hard work. With a name like John Henry this seemed his destiny but there had to be something better.

One day after work he was sitting on his front porch and an old man strolled by making his rounds from home to home.

"Good afternoon...I'm buying old gold...rings, jewelry, coins or whatever. Do you got any?" John didn't think they had any, but invited the old gent to the porch for a drink of cold water and asked his mother if there was any gold in old uncle Walter's trunk. Upon searching they found Uncle Walter's gold tooth and sold it for $1.

Selling gold intrigued John and inspired by the old man and a lust for gold, John asked the old man how he does this. He found he needed three things: a slate, some acid, and some scales. John decided to go into the gold business.

He rode to Baltimore in the back of a farmers truck on top of some chicken coups. They arrived at Lexington Market at 3 a.m. He helped the farmer unload his chickens and kicked around the market until the stores opened at 8 a.m. He found the store he was looking for on Eutaw Street and paid $37 for the scales, the slate, and a bottle of acid. He was now set up for big business. He hitched hiked back home and started peddling for gold. He hit pay dirt and enjoyed his new adventure much more than picking apples or working on the railroad. He made $20 a week in his gold business alone. But he ran into more old furniture, clocks and other antiques than he did gold so he expanded his business buying and selling all kinds of old antiques.

"Got stuck on many things, but that's how you learn."

He put up a board sign with "ANTIQUES" on it in front of his house and within an hour a dealer came by a bought a glass for $9..turned out to be Stiegle glass!

John told me he still had the old acid bottle and scales.

The rest is history. John later became employed by the State of Maryland and ended up as the Director of Personnel. But he remained an antique dealer for the rest of his life and his love for coins, tokens and paper money became the passion of his life.

John was a interesting character whose life has touched us all. I am so fortunate to have been on his list and I shall treasure the memories we shared for the rest of my life.

Thank you, John...you will live in our memories, but we miss you...

Will Mumford

MINUTES OF MD TAMS MEETING

MARCH 27, 1993

The meeting was called to order by President Bryce Doxzen at 12:03 p.m. The Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and approved. Miscellaneous items were received in the mailbag. Will Mumford again called for articles for the JOURNAL and asked for suggestions. It was suggested that he keep up the good work.

Under Old Business, the slate of officers from the nominating committee were read. There being no nominations from the floor, the slate was closed and the officers unanimously (almost) approved. The incoming officers are as follows:

President - Greg Ruby

Vice-President - Bill Sacks

Secretary - Jim Boswell

Treasurer - Ed Craig

Directors - Bill Miller and Frank Pugliese

Graciously, the outgoing officers agreed to remain in office until the close of the meeting.

In New Business, the annual June meeting is tentatively scheduled for July at the ANA Show at the Convention Center. A room has been requested; however, an alternate date is scheduled at the pre-ANA show in Towson sponsored by MSNA. Greg Ruby received a MANA request for a club nominee for Alex Kappa Award. Bob Ruby was our club's nominee.

Greg Ruby thanked outgoing President Bryce Doxzen for his service to the organization and presented him with the Past-President's Plaque. Bryce reflected on his past years, citing the introduction of an annual swap meet and the payoff of the book as notable accomplishments.

Jim Boswell nominated Pete Burris as Treasurer Emeritus in honor of his years of dedicated service to the club. This received unanimous approval. (About time, we agreed on something!) Pete, in accepting this honor, noted that while the book has been paid for, he still has in his possession 600 copies which must be dealt with. He, with his usual smile, turned this problem over to his successor, Ed Craig.

Jim Boswell called for more mavericks to publish in the JOURNAL while Jan Pugliese thanked Harry Crow for his computerized list and asked others to also contribute to Maryland Unlisteds. Ed Lanham noted that the Laytonsville commemorative mentioned in the last JOURNAL is still available. Other items for sale were mentioned by Russ Sears, Jan Pugliese and Bob Ruby. Pete Burris noted that the Tres Bon tokens he had brought to an earlier meeting are no longer available as the store closed its doors in Baltimore. Dave Pohaska, who is in charge of the club's cabinet, requested a volunteer nearer to Baltimore to assume that position. As usual, there were no volunteers. Sorry, Dave.

The meeting was adjourned at 12:36 and a club auction followed.

Respectfully submitted for the final time,
Jan Pugliese, Outgoing Secretary

LISTING THE UNLISTED

JAN PUGLIESE

My sincerest thanks to Harry Crow and Jim Shipley who have shared their many finds. Our collective list of unlisted now tops eight pages and, with your help, will continue to grow even longer. Please send any treasures you've unearthed to me at 7510 Mountain Laurel Rd.; Boonsboro, MD 21713 and it will be included in our next column. Tokens need not be old to qualify for publication. While it is exciting to discover an old unknown piece, it is equally important to list current tokens now so that they will not be lost in the future. Don't be shy. All new listings are welcome.

Here are the latest additions to our list.

BOOK REVIEW

by Curtis H. Judge

PRISON TOKENS AND MEDALS OF THE UNITED STATES

by Jerry Zara

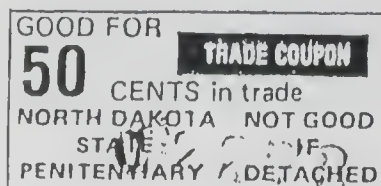

Jerry Zara has just released a major revision of his previous work co-authored with Bob Lemke eleven years ago. Prison Tokens and Medals of the United States is a hard bound volume 162 pages in length in the 8 1/2" X 11" format. It is profusely illustrated with high quality pictures of the tokens, scrip, exnumia and institutions where they were used.

Modern criminal rehabilitation theory holds that convicts and cash do not mix. An inordinate lust for money landed many of the prisoners behind bars in the first place. The use of cash inside prison walls contributes to escapes, corruption and the proliferation of criminal activities among inmates. Therefore, there was a need to establish some type of token or scrip currency to allow the inmates the lawful uses of money while denying them the illicit benefits.

In the early 1800's, European prisons had begun the use of token coinage systems for inmates. It was a full century later that the United States institutions adopted similar systems. Token usage in prisons is now nearly obsolete, having been precluded by the use of coupons, punch cards and various charge systems that completely eliminate a circulating medium of exchange.

In the catalog, Zara lists by state all known token and coupon scrip used in reform institutions in the United States, along with other exnumia. Complete descriptions of all items including size, composition, obverse and reverse inscriptions are given. Historical data and pictures of the institutions are also included as background data.

Autographed copies of the work are available directly from the author @ $24.95 plus $2.00 postage and handling. Write Jerry Zara 2414 Mark Place Point Pleasant, N.J. 08742.

THE TOKENS OF JACOB SEEGER

Jacob Seeger was born in Reutlingen, Wurttemberg, (Germany) on October 26, 1809. In 1830 he came to Baltimore and in 1832 he established the silver-plating business at the corner of Baltimore and North Streets. In 1835 he moved to Fayette and Calvert Streets, and in 1841 to 21 German Street. Mr. Seeger made the first accoutrements for soldiers manufactured in this country, and supplied the U.S. Government with the military ornaments for use in the Mexican War. In 1854 he became interested in the brewing business and in 1865 disposed of his silver-plating establishment and devoted himself strictly to his brewery. He died February 18, 1883. Mr. Seeger's tokens were struck by F. X. Koehler in the early 1850's.

It is interesting to note that another prominent Baltimore die-sinker, J. F. W. Dorman, occupied 19 German Street for his business and later in the early 1880's expanded his establishment to 21 German Street.

The tokens issued by Mr. Seeger are illustrated below. The only other token known to exist to use the "Seeger" reverse design is the token issued by Ross Winans which is also shown below.
